CHICAGO PLANS TO TRAP REDS

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Raids that will place every known anarchist in Chicago in police cells were planned at a conference today of Chief Shipley and his principal subordinates. A complete net has been spread for the exponents of violence and Chief Shipley will decide whether it is advisable to draw it in at once in order to prevent a possible outbreak in which lives might be sacrificed. The Central Station detectives under the orders of Assistant Chief Schenckler have been working for weeks to locate the anarchist hotbeds and to place under surveillance men and women who espouse anarchistic principles.

The warning of Chancellor E. M. Dunne of the Chicago Archdiocese that a murder similar to the one committed in Denver, in which Father Leo Heinrichs was the victim, might occur in Chicago within a month, aroused the police and caused a hurried conference in the City Hall between Chief Shipley and the assistant chief. The Denver assassination, added to the feeling known to exist in the Italian colony of the West Side, aroused much alarm in Chicago.

ATTEL BESTS KELLY

POLICE STOP VERY UNEVEN
FIGHT IN THE SEVENTH ROUND.

The Californian floored Kelly seven times in this round and the police stepped into the ring and stopped a very uneven contest. Throughout it was a case of a polished, scientific boxer pitted against the more rugged slugger, and science won out. The men fought a very fast clip from the tap of the initial gong until the end, Kelly at all times being willing to mix it.

In the first preliminary Sallor Gordon of the navy gained an easy decision over Fred Ward of this city at the end of six rounds of tame milling.

Bill Purcell won the second preliminary from Jack McGee in the third round, the referee stopping the contest after McGee had gone to the mat three times.

WILL REACH GREAT DEPTH

Mine Superintendent Make Report on Rawhide to the United States Smelting and Refining Company.

RAWHIDE, Feb. 28.—T. J. Flynn, formerly mine superintendent of the Combination and Mohawk mines of Goldfield, made the following report by telegraph to the United States Smelting and Refining Company at Salt Lake today:

"I have spent the last three days in making a more thorough and complete examination of Balloon Hill and any doubts entertained of its containing millions of the precious metal have been dispelled. Squat on the hill are the mining locations known as the Balloon, Balloon Fraction, Grey Eagle Fraction, Mascot No. 1, Diabase and March Rose. The Grey Eagle Fraction is as yet unincorporated. So is the Mascot No. 1. The Balloon claim, the Balloon Fraction, the Diabase and the March Rose are the property of the Rawhide Queen Mines Company. The formation is porphyry and rhyolite. The rhyolite is a large intrusive dyke about 300 feet wide, running parallel with the hill. The contact with the porphyry on the west side is being prospected by nine leases. Among the most active at present are the Worden on the Grey Eagle Fraction, the Kearns No. 2, Kearns No. 1, Reynolds-Ogilvie, St. Ives and Nat Goodwin on the Balloon and Balloon Fraction. All these leases have remarkable showings for the amount of work done."

"The most remarkable and, in fact, one of the greatest prospects I have ever seen is in the Kearns No. 2. On this lease there is a shaft down 65 feet, with 22 feet of cross-cut at the bottom towards the hanging wall. There are values from the surface to the bottom of the shaft, but the richest ore and best showing are in the crosscut. The first nine feet of this is in ore running from $100 to $500 per ton. The rest of the crosscut is in ore of a good milling grade of from $10 to $20, and the hanging wall is not yet reached. The mineralized part of this vein is a secondary silification of porphyry and is very soft; that is, the silification has not been complete. Within this ledge and running parallel with it are talc seams. The mineralization of this is what might be termed 'banded'; that is, there are bands of very rich ore alternating with the leaner or poorer grade of corresponding width. These talc seams separate the enriched zones from the leaner ones, and perhaps from the hanging wall of the channels of the gold-bearing solution."

"I see no reason, geologically or otherwise, for this mineralization not to extend to great depth and along the entire length of this contact."

"I feel confident that developments in the next ninety days will open up mines that will rival any in the State."

(Signed) "T. J. FLYNN."

The crowd from Reno on Wednesday was very pleased at what they saw, and there was not a few investors in the bunch. E. W. King, the Montana millionaire, who owns most of Balloon hill, has gone out of the camp, and when he returns he will bring some more capital with him. The general impression is that C. W. Gates, and some of his crowd, will return to the camp for they were all favorably impressed. There must be in the neighborhood of five thousand people in the camp. I went to Rawhide on business and had no idea of what I was going to see, and I am going back there. Rawhide is a hummer, and you might as well try to stay the tide as to attempt to stop the boom, for it is a boom on merit."

The Rawhide Bluff Mining Company completed its organization yesterday with the election of the following officers and directors: Zeb Kendall, president; R. B. Govan, vice-president; W. B. Pittman, secretary; O. B. Kemp, treasurer and general manager; Owey Dougherty.

O. B. Kemp put a big lot of money into the company for the purpose of developing the ground, and he will give his personal attention to the work. He is a mining man of thirty years' experience in Colorado, Montana and Nevada. He is prominent in mining circles in Goldfield, where he has a number of interests. He believes that Rawhide is one of the

Bring Flattering Rawhide Reports

And still come the stories from Rawhide which serve only to increase the enthusiasm. Two more Tonopah men returned from the new camp yesterday and they had their experience to add to the stores of information that have been coming to Tonopah for weeks past. The latest to become enthused over the prospects and possibilities of Rawhide are Charles Reynolds, the attorney, and "Doc" Tanner of the Oro Plata. They think that at the present time, it is one of the greatest camps in the world.

"It is hard to describe the camp," said Mr. Reynolds, "for the reason that there is so much to tell about. I did not visit any part of the camp where I didn't find the greatest kind of showings. I went to the Kea lease No. 2 on the Balloon hill, yesterday, and there I saw three feet ore. While I was there a sample was taken from the led and I saw the assay made from which returned $3910 to the ton."

"That looks pretty good to me and while I didn't find many of such cases, there were showings to found wherever we went. I never saw such showings in my life, and I don't believe that anyone else ever did. The merit of the camp is the showings are not confined to a particular spot. Balloon is one of the greatest mountains of ore ever seen anywhere, and two and a half miles away from there is the Roy Tiger, which is certainly another wonder. There is no doubt that there will be something good opened between these points; in fact, there are good showings now in the interior."

"Rawhide is the busiest place on the coast at the present time. There is blasting going on by day and night, there is business of all kinds going on all the time. There is considerable money going into the camp now; money to buy properties, and money to invest in business. Rawhide has the center of the stage, and it is going to occupy it for a long time to come."

"The real estate values are high too high, perhaps, but there is great demand for real property, and they are building far up on Rawhide avenue. But the camp itself is the thing, for whatever has been done there has been done on merit, and not on jawbone. The men have used their own money and their muscle and this accounts for the lack of depth. On the Big Four lease which is south of the Murray lease they had a big strike last week. The Murray lease is sacking ore. That lease is one of the wonders of Rawhide. They are sacking on Kearns lease No. 1 and No. 2. On the latter they are sacking everything as it comes from the mine. There is not an hour of the day or night that the sound of the blast is not heard, and the sound is a good one. There was a big strike back of Hooligan hill a few days ago, and they are sacking ore from the Miller lease on Hooligan hill. The people are coming in there at the rate of seventy-five to a hundred a day. Eastern capital has started to go in."

"The crowd from Reno on Wednesday was very pleased at what they saw, and there was not a few investors in the bunch. E. W.
